Dear Parents and Carers,

Stone Age Food

Have you ever needed to find a way to encourage your children to eat vegetables? Maybe making a 'Stone Age' vegetable stew, over an open fire is the way to do this!! Last week, children in Plato prepared and cooked their very own 'Stone Age' stew. All the children I spoke to really enjoyed it – they certainly didn't leave any for me!! They also enjoyed trying other 'Stone Age' food including venison and snails.

Staying Safe On-Line

TikTok - more parental controls

With TikTok surging in popularity, including children deliberately increasing their followers to 1,000 so that they can go live, it's good to see TikTok making more controls available for parents. The features, which are available, via Family Pairing, include the ability to prevent the child searching and preventing strangers from seeing the child's post. THIS link enables parents and cares to find out they can use this new feature and the older features to keep their children safe whilst using Tik Tok.

Zoom - new security feature

During the first national lockdown there were lots of concerns around using Zoom, however they very quickly responded to those concerns and continue to be pro-active in order to make the service as safe as possible. They have recently released a new update which is a feature to tackle disruptive behaviour. By clicking 'Suspend Participant Activities', all video, audio, in-meeting chat, annotation, screen sharing, and recording during that time will stop, and Breakout Rooms will end.

If you are using Zoom at home we suggest you read an article about the new feature - HERE.

Best Regards,
